Unfinished Business:

-At the November meeting Birks made the suggestion to start doing the school reunions, Snider spoke with Gay Scott (she is the one in charge of the reunions) to see if they would like the Historical Society to take them over and she said that she would still do them but would like more help from the society with the reunions, so we will be assisting more with them.

New Business:

-Snider spoke with Doris Stites about having an interview with her and she said to let her know on the time.
-Snider got a call from Carrie Saunders (second grade teacher at Mill Creek School) to do a presentation on the history of our area, because her students were studying our community. So on December 5, 2014 Snider did the presentation at Mill Creek School, the presentation consisted of: history facts, photos, and visual items from the society and Snider's own collection, the students favorite thing was a Stamp from the Odd Fellow's Hall, and Snider stamped a piece of paper for each student. Also Carrie wanted to know if there was an old time resident that Snider knew that could go up there to answer some Snider asked Doris Stites to see if she would go up there to do that and she said yes, so Doris went up there with Snider, and the presentation went very well.
